BRAZA WEAR BRIEFLY

ROMANCE 2016

Fashionably, Happy Ever After In Winter

Are you tired of anticipating the bitter cold, snow, wind, and ice ahead? Are you often stuck at home with cabin fever because the road has not been plowed, or public transportation has collapsed?

It's the perfect opportunity to lie back and relax on your most comfortable sofa, close your eyes, and make believe you are on a sun-drenched beach.

Are you thinking of your wedding day? Planning to hit a party for Valentine's Day? Are you thinking of a getaway in a warmer climate? Your dresses may be full of questions:

- Will my dress be long or short and what color to choose?
- Is my wardrobe up to date for a trip?
- Do I wear something from my closet, and will it fit?

This issue is all about dressing up fashionably to combat the weather challenges and help make your special event come true… and a "happily ever after" memory.

Your friends at Braza…

Oops! (You look in the mirror and see your white or beige bra shows through your lace top and it looks terrible.)

Dial Braza for advice: Strapless Angel in black lace to the rescue – and no straps, of course!

Your bra just floats, elegant and sexy under your top and you look and feel like a million bucks.

The Strapless Angel is not an angel that will "fly away" and disappear. Oversized silicone side supports will stay secure as you dance carefree into the dawn.

Vivian Leigh could have used a corset extender in Gone With The Wind, but it didn't exist back then and she was apparently forced to practice shallow breathing.

So now is not out in some weight before a special event, and your corset is tight, just add the Braza Corset Extender, of course.
